

Why Your Admin Team Will Love Trio

A workstation investment should reduce operational complexity, not add to it. Here's why Trio is built to hold up – for your budget, your operations, and your teams:

1 A Partner That Isn't Going Anywhere

Capsa Healthcare has been designing and manufacturing healthcare technology for decades – through every wave of clinical technology change. This isn't a startup pivoting away from your product line. Trio is backed by an organization with the infrastructure and commitment to support your fleet long after the purchase order is signed.

2 One Partner Across Your Entire Point-of-Care Portfolio

Capsa is the only manufacturer offering smart computing workstations, medical carts, medication carts, wall-mounted solutions, pharmacy automation, fleet management software, and AI-powered analytics under one roof. One vendor relationship, one service model, one partner who understands how these systems work together. Health systems that standardize with Capsa reduce contract complexity and enable staff to move between facilities encountering familiar equipment.

3 Bumper-to-Bumper Warranty. Responsive Service.

Every Trio ships with a comprehensive bumper-to-bumper warranty. When something needs attention, Capsa provides remote troubleshooting, ready-to-ship parts, and field service – so cart issues don't become nursing staffing problems or IT backlog.

4 Data to Defend Your Fleet Decisions

N-Sight Fleet Management (standard with full-featured Trio) gives your team utilization data, battery health monitoring, and cart location visibility across facilities. When it's time to justify a refresh cycle, reallocate assets, or defend a fleet expansion, you have the data – not estimates.
